

The Baltimore Convention.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.
BALTIMORE, June 20—3 p.m.—The Convention excitement is becoming more intense. The longer the Committee on Credentials defers its report, the deeper grows the feeling. The general expression is that the unity of the Democratic party is a thing of the past. Others (they are very sanguine) say that the rushing together of the divisions will be like the clashing of the Red Sea waters upon Pharaoh's host.

The reference of the warrants of the seceding delegates to the Committee on Credentials has been the only thing accomplished by the Convention in three days. It has not yet fixed the basis of its organization. Many delegates are already tired, and express the determination to make short work with the Convention really does commence business.

The meeting this morning did not last over a quarter of an hour, while it took over two hours to seat the crowd in attendance. The Virginia delegation is not without its troubles. Indeed, with rare exceptions, each delegation is microcosm of the Convention, differing views—and at all times ill feeling growing out of the differences.

The frequent, and, at times, very severe gusts which pass over the city, serve to temper to some extent the extreme heat that seems to pervade everything. These storms have a contrary effect on their manly namesakes, and of their best to keep things cool. But for them, the crowd at Front Street Theatre, during the sessions of the Convention, would be unbearable.

The most strongly contested point in the war now raging, is that occupied by the New York delegation. It is said that among them rests the unity of the Democratic party. If so, the unity of the party rests on a shifting basis. Having broken the party in their own State in twain, it will require some time before they can "get their hand in" at reconciliation. Still it is said, as goes New York, so goes the Convention.

CONGRESS.

[REPORTED FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.]

Senate, Wednesday, June 20.

A Committee of Conference was ordered on the navy appropriation bill, on the disagreement of the Senate and House. A bill for the relief of Messrs. Hockaday and Leggett, late contractors on the Salt Lake mail route, was taken up and discussed. The bill indemnifies the contractors for curtailment of their service in violation of the contract, and appropriates $40,000.—The bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider the vote by which the tariff bill had been postponed until next session was taken up, and the vote reconsidered—ayes 33, noes 19.

Mr. Lane moved to amend the present tariff by re-enacting the bill of 1846, but without taking action, the Senate took a recess for two hours.

House of Representatives.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Secretary of War, in response to a resolution of the House, transmitting correspondence not heretofore furnished, having reference to Gen. Harney's administration of the Department of Oregon. It was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Davis, of Md., from the Committee of Ways and Means, moved a suspension of the rules to report a bill authorizing the President, within twelve months from the passage of this act, to borrow on the credit of the Government, a sum not exceeding $21,000,000 or so much thereof as the exigency of the public service may require for the redemption of the outstanding Treasury notes; stock to be issued for the loan at an interest of six per cent, and to be redeemed within twenty years.

The House refused to suspend the rules by a vote of 100 to 65.

Mr. Washburne, of Ill., also made an ineffectual effort to suspend the rules, to take up and pass the river and harbor bill.

The House agreed to the report of the Committee of Conference on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill.

MARRIED.

On Tuesday, the 19th instant, by the Rev. Dr. Pym, Mr. JOHN McROBERTS, of Chillicothe, Ohio, to Miss ALICE R. FLEURY, of Washington.

On the 14th instant, by the Rev. J. Spencer Kenner, Mr. LEWIS H. YOUNG, to Miss FANNIE LOUISA STANHOPE, both of the District of Columbia.
